As a solar energy company serving homeowners and small businesses, AWS Solar brings dependable solutions to Sun Valley with a local touch. Based in Los Angeles, California, our team designs and installs clean energy systems that fit each property's goals, roof layout, and budget considerations. From your first consultation to final interconnection, we focus on clear communication, professional workmanship, and long-term value. Customers in Sun Valley appreciate that we streamline each step—site assessment, system design, permitting, and coordination with your utility—so you can transition to renewables with confidence.
